DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 1 (second occurrence) through 17 have been renumbered 2-18. All dependent claims in which depend from claim 1 will be examined as if they were depended from the first occurrence of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant recites in claims 1, 16, and 18 the language "the device comprises . . . the device consisting essentially of . . ." Language is unclear. For the purpose of examination, the language will be interpreted as --comprising--.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3711

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dantolan (USPN 6228002) in view of Huffman (USPN 5215307) further in view of Spivey (USPN 4272077).

Regarding claims 1-4 and 10-17, Dantolan discloses a weight exercise device comprising a handle 10 shaped like a grip portion of a sport implement having a first and second ends and a weight 12 positioned at the second end of the handle (See Entire Document). Dantolan does not disclose the length of the device or the size of the handle. Huffman discloses a exercise device for strengthening muscles comprising a handle and a weight at the end of the handles wherein the device is of a length of 15 to 30 inches (See Summary of the Invention). Huffman also notes that the weights on the ends of the handle may be offset such that one end of the handle weighs more than the other end of the handle. Such effect would move the location of the center of gravity anywhere from the center of the device to the ends of the device. One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have the device of the above lengths, especially 15 inches, in order to vary the location of the center of gravity of the device. Huffman notes that the grips of a particular sport implement may be used such as in golf, baseball, tennis, etc. Spivey discloses a handle for a golf club in which the handle is about 30% larger than a standard golf grip (See Figure 5). One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to increase the size of the grip in order to improve jerks or yipes, or in other words, improve the gripping of the implement.

Art Unit: 3711

Regarding claim 5, Dantolan disclose the weight having a diameter less than 4 inches (See Column 2, lines 33 through 38).

Regarding claims 6 and 15, Huffman notes that the device has a length of 15 to 30 inches and also notes that the length of the weights may vary. One having ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have any length for the handle and weight so long as the device strengthens the arm.

Regarding claim 7, Huffman implies that the device weighs more than the hand-held implement used in the sport (See Background of the invention).

Regarding claims 8 and 9, Huffman discloses the handles having an externally thread portion and the weight having an internally thread socket (See Figure 10).

Regarding claim 18, see the above regarding the structure. Dantolan and Huffman both disclose the device being swung.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3711

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
